WILLIAM R. BARTON · COVER LETTER

A NOTE FROM ME

WHY WE SHOULD TALK

I'll be straight with you. I'm not a traditional product designer, and I don't have a published product portfolio yet. What I do have is fifteen years of turning vague briefs into clean, on-brand work, and a fast-growing habit of building with AI.

I've been leaning hard into Claude Code. The Applicant Review Tool on my resume, isn't a mockup, I designed and built it end to end in a few hours using a Claude-native workflow, to my own design system.

I also know how to make complex things feel simple. I lead with hierarchy and clarity, prioritize progress over perfection, and I've turned messy systems into ones that actually work. At Humble & Fume I replaced a legacy web interface with a scalable framework using Webflow, Zapier, and Klaviyo and drove a 20% lift in email revenue on our retail site.

If you need a perfectly conventional resume, I am probably not your person. If you want a designer with a strong eye, a bias to action, and a real passion for learning and building with AI, then let's talk.

Sincerely,

WILLIAM R. BARTON
